Twelve Men Were Selected

TWO STATEMENTS OF THE CASE

The Prosecution Wanted the Jury Sent to Wellsville in Order That They Might View the Scene of the Crime, But the Court Ruled That the Matter Should Be Delayed—The Evidence in the McGregor Case as Given by the Witnesses Put on the Stand This Morning and This Afternoon.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

NEW LISBON, Nov. 20.—The gathering of a jury in the McGregor case moved along so well yesterday afternoon and this morning that the expectations of the most sanguine were passed.

When the report of the NEWS REVIEW stopped yesterday there were four men in the jury box; but two of these were excused. Henry Rodens was succeeded by A. J. Heater, of Salem, and George C. Murphy, of East Liverpool was secured. F. F. Pumphrey, of Washington, was found to be a good man, and was given a seat in the box, as was William Beardmore, of East Liverpool. J. S. Smith, of Wellsville, was excused from duty because of an opinion already formed, and William Neal was accepted. The defense, however, were not satisfied with the selection and he was removed. Thomas Iccman was given a place on the jury, but J. C. Hamilton, of Wellsville, was ruled out. George D. Stouffer, of Knox, was excused, as was H. P. Wells, of Wellsville. W. T. Calvin, Middleton, was taken, but afterwards asked to retire by the defense. T. C. Dyke, Negley, was called in his place, and the defense asked that Thomas Iccman be removed. His place was given to Levi McCaskey, of Center, and John Kipp, of Unity, was called. After being accepted Kipp was removed, and Horace Martin, of Elkrum, did not meet the requirements. George A. Lomas, of the same township, had no opinion and was placed in the box, but George Donaldson, Washington, did not suit. Abijah Scantz, Center, was accepted, but later removed by objection of the defense. and G. F. Murdock, of Wellsville, got off without trouble. R. W. King, Franklin, was accepted, and J. J. Welsand, of East Liverpool, escaped duty as did J. A. Bartlett, of Wellsville. Joseph Hanlon, of East Liverpool, was accepted, but the state asked that he be excused, and George W. Croxall did not meet the demands. Aaron Armstrong, of Elkrum, was excused, as was George Huston, of Center. George L. Miller, of New Lisbon, was accepted in spite of the fact that he made every possible effort to get away. I. McCormick, also of New Lisbon, was ordered to the box after examination, and the crowd began to think that there would be no trouble in securing the jury. The first panel was exhausted before the required number had been obtained, and the court selected a few additional names. L. J. Hoter, Center, was called, and excused, while W. O. Smith was retained and then removed. Wilson McLaughlin, of New Lisbon, was permitted to retire by the court, and Nicholas Way, of the same place, given a seat in the box. John H. Morrison, Center, was accepted, and Ed. A. Bowman excused by the court. A. J. Heater, who was already on the jury, was excused by the defense, as was George A. Lomas. Albert McLaughlin, of New Lisbon, was examined and accepted, and another hole made in the assembly by the defense excusing Levi McCaskey. The court permitted John Floss, Hanover, to go back home without duty, and the same fate befel John Scott, of Center township. There was a visible expectation when James Sterling was called to the stand, as he would fill the box if he was accepted. The usual examination was passed through and as there seemed to be no objection he was given a place. Council for the defense then occupied some time in consultation, and there was a feeling that the hardest part of the preliminary work was at an end. When it was finally decided that a jury had been selected the box contained the following: B. Y. Barnes, Wayne; George Kauffman, East Liverpool; F. Pumphrey, Washington; William Beardmore, East Liverpool; George D. Stouffer, Knox; R. W. King, Franklin; I. McCormick, Center; John H. Morrison, Center; Albert McLaughlin, Center; James Sterling, Center; J. T. Jackson, Center, and Nicholas Way, Center.

All seemed satisfied when the jury was complete, and there was a movement among the attorneys as though they would get right down to work. The prisoner at the bar had manifested a close interest in the proceedings, and looked carefully at the jurymen as they took their places one by one. When all was complete, he gazed at the assemblage, but not with the absorbing interest one expects to find in a man who is on trial for his life. He was well dressed, and made much the appearance of yesterday, with, perhaps, a tinge of nervousness every time a prospective jurymen was asked as to his belief of the guilt or innocence of the accused.

When the jury was ready for the trial the state asked that the men might be taken to Wellsville and shown the premises where the body was found and it is believed the murder was committed. Prosecutor Speaker did this, he said, because the prosecution believed that the matter should be plain before the jury, and in order that they might know the surroundings and intelligently consider the evidence as it was presented. The court objected to this move on the ground that the statement of the case should be made first, and this matter considered afterward. This was accepted, and the spectators craned their necks to hear what Attorney Speaker had to say when he put forward the side of the state. It was a clear statement of facts as they are already known to the reading public. He brought forward the relations existing between the dead woman and McGregor, reviewing all the incidents as they are already known. He recited how she had gone to his house on the night of the 22d of June to get what property she had there, and was forcibly detained by McGregor armed with revolver and knife. The prosecutor drew a graphic picture of the scene, and showed how the testimony of neighbors connected the tragic occurrence with midnight, when shrieks and groans were heard coming from the house. Other incidents set forth led the authorities to believe that an awful crime had been committed, and they began an investigation that was as thorough as it was successful. Probing the ground in the rear of the house with a piece of small pipe, the ghastly discovery which had shocked the whole county had been made. The body when disinterred bore marks of having been buried for a year, or thereabouts. Examination showed that there were three wounds, made by some sharp instrument, on the right side of the head: a cut six inches in length was in the throat, and there were evidences which showed that strangling had also been used. Any one of these methods to extinguish the spark of life would have been sufficient to accomplish the purpose, and the woman would have died.

Attorney P. M. Smith arose to give the defense of the case, and denied that the body found was that of Elizabeth Ewing, or that there were any marks of violence upon what was found. With this plain statement the case was left with the jury, their opinion to be formed by the evidence produced. Again application was made to have the jury taken to Wellsville, but the court set it aside. All things being in readiness, the first witness, I. P. Farmer, was called.

He testified that he was county surveyor, and had prepared the plat showing the spot where the body was found and the surroundings. It was found to scale except Wood and Coal streets, and was made from measurements taken on the ground, describing the vacant space between the porch and the coal house, and said the chicken coop was made of lath with three or four apartments, one under cover.

Mrs. Sarah E. Moore, mother of Elizabeth Ewing, was dressed in deep black when she came to the stand. She said her home was at Port Perry, Pa., and Lizzie was married when 20 or 21 years of age. She was at home a few weeks after that event, and then went to live in Wellsville. In response to the inquiry of Prosecutor Speaker she said that as near as she knew her daughter had lived with

BEAVER CREEK RESORT

Capital to be Invested in Improvements.

FORTY-FOUR ACRES OF LAND

Will be Laid Out in an Attractive Onting Place, and Twenty Cottages Will be Built Next Year—T. R. Bradshaw and a Company on the Move.

If this city is not called upon to endure another panic, the near future will see a summer resort on the banks of Little Beaver.

T. R. Bradshaw, of the West End pottery, owns 44 acres of land in that part of the world, and he proposes to make of it a bower of beauty in which the requisites for the comforts of life will be so well displayed that it will be eagerly sought by those who desire to spend the summer months in comfort. Mr. Bradshaw proposes to lay out the grounds in pretty form, erect 20 cottages, and so improve the water front as to make it the best along the creek. The normal depth of water at this point is about 10 feet, and some improvements will increase it, and in time of warm weather keep the water so that it will be one of the most important parts of the resort. The cottages will be substantial and comfortable, and so arranged as to make occupants as comfortable as if they were at home. It is believed that the resort will be ready for occupancy next summer. A company of local capitalists are interested with Mr. Bradshaw in the project.

OPPOSED TO EXCURSIONS.

The Churches Take Definite Action Sunday.

Several churches have asked the railway company to run no more Sunday excursions, and the NEWS REVIEW has a number of letters from ministers on the subject, which, because of the hour at which they were received, can not be published until tomorrow. Reverend Taggart's letter is as follows:

Messrs. E. A. Ford, General Passenger agent, and Joseph Wood, General Manager of Pennsylvania lines of railroad:

GENTLEMEN—Deprecating the increased Sabbath desecration and consequent demoralization of society that must result to the communities along our railroad, by the running of trains on the Lord's Day, we would most respectfully and earnestly request you to run no more Sunday excursion trains on the Cleveland & Pittsburg railroad.

We make this petition and ask your compliance with it, out of respect to the law of God and the rights of man.

First—These trains are unnecessary, and are therefore in direct violation of God's law of the Sabbath.

Second—They are in conflict with the Christian sentiment of the communities through which they pass.

Third—They are oppressive to all connected with the running of the trains, depriving them of the rest of the Sabbath.

Fourth—As the violation of one part of the moral law tends to weaken respect for other precepts of the same law, the running of trains on the Lord's Day must be demoralizing to all employed on them, as well as to those patronizing them.

Fifth—They are a departure from the time honored custom of this railroad, to which we hope you will return, and hereafter steadfastly maintain.

The above memorial was adopted by a unanimous vote of the congregation of the First United Presbyterian church of East Liverpool, Ohio, on Nov. 18, A. D. 1894, there being about 300 people in attendance.

It is, by direction of the congregation, forwarded to you for your careful consideration.

J. C. TAGGART, Pastor.

A Practical Objection.

Elder C. W. Huffer, pastor of the Christian church, has written a letter to E. A. Ford, general passenger and ticket agent of the Pennsylvania lines, expressing the sentiment of his congregation against Sunday excursions on the Cleveland and Pittsburg. The letter recites that 250 persons, members of the church and citizens of East Liverpool, endorse the petition asking the company to run no more Sunday excursions. The letter is a strong plea for the company to consider, and will doubtless be followed by others.

A Sad Predicament.

Kennedy, the hypnotist, who is well known in this city, was in Alliance last week, and at his last performance informed the audience that during the time he had been before the public he had contracted the diseases of those upon whom he operated from time to time. He believed that he would never be well again. Those who have often enjoyed the professor will miss him in the future.

River Rising.

The Victor, a trading boat, on her way south, is lying at the local wharf today, taking on ware to tempt the residents of towns further down the Ohio.

The Bedford passed down last night for Wheeling, and is due up tonight and down tomorrow.

The Keystone State passed down last night, taking on 50 casks of ware here.

The river is rising slowly, and boats are able to run at any point now.

A number of towboats have passed here since Sunday, several of them being heavily laden.

Those Who Are Ill.

Mrs. Thomas Stevenson burst a blood vessel in her head this morning, and for a time the blood poured from her nose until she came near dying. Doctor Clark was summoned to the Stevenson residence across the river, and gave medical aid.

Mrs. Cronin, boss warehouse woman at the D. E. McNicol pottery, has been ill at her home on Fifth street, but is improving slowly.

Mrs. Wilson Smith, of Thompson Hill, who has been ill for some time, is still in a serious condition.

Thrown From a Buggy.

Willard Mercer, an employee of the freight depot, was driving in West Virginia on Sunday afternoon when the horse ran away throwing Mercer out of the buggy. The frightened animal had it all his own way for a time but at length came to a standstill and was captured by Mercer, who sustained no other injury than a shaking up.

The Pumps Broke.

The pumps at the ferry boat broke the other day, and the crew have been at a great disadvantage since then, being compelled to do much work by hand. New machinery was ordered immediately, but it was impossible to get it here before this afternoon, and the delay was most annoying not only to the crew but to the traveling public as well.

Lost a Finger.

L. Clark, employed on the school building, had the misfortune to have a heavy stone fall on his right hand this morning. One finger was so badly mashed that Doctor Norris was compelled to amputate it, and another was painfully torn by the accident. The middle finger was the member removed.

Wild Eyed Reports.

The local representative of the Pittsburg Times should be called down. He sent in a horribly exaggerated report of the East End church affair, saying that "the pastor tried to sit down and fell forward on his face." Deliberate lying is characteristic of some people in this section.

Wreck at Rochester.

A freight wreck at Rochester called out the Wellsville crew yesterday, and delayed trains on the Fort Wayne and Cleveland & Pittsburg. The local which should have been here at 10 o'clock, did not work until after the afternoon passenger went to Pittsburg.

Changed the Play.

At a business meeting of Company E last night it was decided to arrange for the production of "The Fall of Atlanta" by home talent instead of the "Drummer Boy." Accordingly George M. Connell, of New Lisbon, was called upon with and the play will in all probability be produced.

No Meeting.

The board of education held no meeting last night, owing to the fact that there was no business to transact and not a quorum had there been any. Two of the members were out of the city, and others were engaged in other business.

Sued for Wages.

William Chapman brought suit in the court of Squire McKenzie today to recover $200, which he claims is due him from J. H. Baum for wages. Attorney Brooks went to Wellsville today to prosecute the claim.

Paid a Fine.

John Donovan appeared at Mayor Gilbert's office last evening, and paid a fine of $6.00 for fighting at the passenger station. A West Virginian man who was in the same row has not yet been arrested.

SHE MAY SUE THE CITY

Mrs. Curren Thinking of the Damages.

FELL WHERE LAMPS ARE NEEDED

To Warn Pedestrians of Danger, But There Are No Lights There—Others Have Been Unfortunate at the Same Place—A Deep Cut.

The accident which befel Mrs. Eleanor S. Curren may cost the city a few dollars in damages.

Brief mention of the unfortunate happening was made in the NEWS REVIEW yesterday afternoon, but the story complete could not be given at that hour. The lady lives at 119 Jefferson street, and had been spending Sunday evening with her son, George Wynne, Bradshaw addition. At 7:30 she started home in company with another son, and they imagined they were on the right road until the ground seemed to sink out of their path, and they fell a distance of perhaps 18 feet. The lady was taken to the home of the Willison family nearby and Doctor Hobbs summoned. He found that she had sustained some internal injuries that might prove serious and that she was painfully bruised from the unexpected experience.

The claim is made that the contractor who has been at work on Avondale street neglected to put danger signals at this point, and Mrs. Curren is not the first person to be informed of the fact by a fall. Three accidents of minor importance have already occurred at that point, which is the place where a road reaches the cutting made by the grading of Avondale street. One lady had a narrow escape from going over into the big cut. The friends of Mrs. Curran are indignant at what they believe is the neglect of some one, and say the city will be called to answer and the court to determine the guilty person.

Hard to Arrest.

Ike Nanninger and a man named Price were snarling at the rink last night when some one informed Officer Jennings that a fight was in progress. He arrested Nanninger and the latter resisted. The crowd gathered in around the officer but he held to his prisoner, and shoved him along. Chief Gill, with Officers Supplee, Badgely, Welsh and Wyman arrived, and the man was taken to city hall. At one time the scene was turbulent, but the police soon quieted the crowd. Nanninger left security for his appearance tonight and was released.

Cut Up the Mail.

There was an accident at Walker's yesterday afternoon that will prevent some one from reading letters being carried to that place by the train going east. When the clerk threw off the bag, it did not act in the customary manner, but instead of ying on the ground managed to get under the train. The result was a bag cut to pieces and small bits of mail were scattered all over that part of the country. The people were mad, but could do nothing, as it was an accident.

Looking For Hubby.

It was noticed at the Fifth street rink last night that a lady sat in the gallery from start to finish without scarcely moving. She was so heavily veiled that it was impossible to see her face. It was learned that she was looking for her husband, and had seen him, there would probably have been a row. He, however, was passing away the hours in a poker game.

Carraher's Plea.

Carraher, the man implicated in the shooting at Mrs. Coulson's, said he was not guilty yesterday, and will be given a hearing this afternoon. Coulson was bound to court in $200 bond, with his mother as security, the charge being pointing and shooting firearms. Doctor Norris was called in the case Saturday, instead of Doctor Williams, as was published. Attorney Brookes will defend Carraher.

Came From Pittsburg.

Doctor Herron, the railroad surgeon at Pittsburg who dressed W. H. Surles' broken arm in the depot Sunday night, called on the injured gentleman yesterday, and offered to visit him regularly or provide him with passes to the city until his arm is all right. Mr. Surles desires to thank Conductor Pat Duffy for his kindness when he was injured.

After Game.

C. E. Macrum and R. L. Edmonstou went to West Virginia to shoot what quail they could find today. The crop of birds this year is a disappointment to hunters.

MR. CLEVELAND should remember the 7th of November, and not think of asking another term of office.

The man who believes that there will be no politics for a few years had best flee to the mountains of Hesperdam.

Ohio Democrats had a free silver plank in their platform this year, and where is Ohio Democracy at present?
 Would some misguided Republicans adopt the same course?

Will the mellow tones of our Democratic congressman be heard in the next session, or will he retain the same uncontrollable silence that characterized his first year in public service?

THE NEWS REVIEW never loads its columns with yards of ancient history written under the guise of news. It proposes to give the trial of Jesse Mc-Gregor as it takes place in common pleas court.

THE NEW YORK SUN, in the hands of the most able Democratic journalist in the land, goes on record as saying:

"The Cleveland misfit must now know that you cannot haul down the American flag at home and abroad and succeed for any length of time afterward in this country."

THE commercial agencies are unanimous in affirming that business is improving, but it will require time for the country to recover from the blow dealt by Democracy. Low wages, the low price of farm products, and the inability of thousands to find employment continue to have an effect upon general conditions. The improvement, however, is encouraging, and there are hopes for the future.

THE NEWS REVIEW reaches the reading public. It goes into homes where the people read a newspaper to secure the information it contains.
 They are not only well informed as to the daily happenings of the city, but know what business houses have bargains to offer, and take advantage of low prices. A glance at the advertising columns of the NEWS REVIEW proves that it is the best medium for reaching the people. Shrewd business men advertise in the NEWS RE-VIEW.

AN HONEST PENNY.

If we remember right it is not so long ago since all the Democrats in America, who understand the meaning of the word nepotism, were toasting Republicans a rich brown because the relatives of some senators and other members of congress found places in the government service. At present when a Democratic administration groans under the weight of Jeffersonian simplicity it is plainly seen that a few of the faithful are enriching themselves at the expense of the people. The vice-president has his son as private secretary but the knowing ones are sure that his messenger does all the work. Senator Cockrell, he who spends the greater part of his time denouncing public extravagance and advocating public economy, has always had some member of his family on the pay roll, and the charge is made that one son drew a salary when he was a student at Yale. Voorhees as chairman of the senate finance committee, of which we heard so much not long ago, had his son appointed secretary of the committee with a fat salary, while Pepper stands head and shoulders over them all when he has his daughter drawing a salary of $1,500 a year as an assistant clerk, and his son in an equally good position as a messenger.
 There are other senators who bleed the public in this manner, and there should be some law to prevent such a general grasping of public funds as is here shown. There are thousands of deserving men and women who should be recognized before the relative of any man who has sufficient power to say the word.

Used by This Woman to Chris-

W. C. T. U. LOVES MRS. CLEVELAND.

But Think She Shouldn't Have Broken a Bottle of Champagne Over the St.
Louis' Bow—Testimonial Presented to General Dow's Daughter.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 20.—The department reports were continued, when the W. C. T. U. convention got down to work again. Mrs. Emeline D. Martin, national superintendent of the department of purity in literature and art, reported and recommended the reading of certain specified books and publications. Mrs. Alice Robinson spoke briefly for the purity of the press. Mrs.
 Matilda B. Carse made a most interesting report upon the woman's temple.
 The report was most encouraging and MISS FRANCES E. WILLARD.

was received with enthusiasm. It was referred to the executive committee.
 Mrs. Anna M. Cummings of South Africa spoke briefly telling of the enthusiasm of the white ribboners of the dark continent.

Mrs. Campbell of Wisconsin arose to call attention to the fact that there was on the floor of the convention a woman who had christened a steamship by breaking a bottle of water over its bow in place of champagne. This woman, who was called to the platform, was introduced as Mrs. E. A. Shores. In presenting her, Mrs. Willard said: "We will certainly bid up a woman who will bring in a new custom so good as that.
 We think a great deal of Mrs. Cleveland and of how she stood for total abstinence under difficult conditions, and yet we cannot help but think that water would have been better to pour over the recently launched St.
 Louis than champagne."

Last night's session was a celebration in honor of the anniversary of the crusade movement. Mrs. Henrietta L.
 Monroe, president of the Ohio W. C. T.
 U., was in the chair. Addresses of felicitation and reminiscence were delivered by Mrs. Jennie F. Willing of Chicago, Mrs. E. J. Thompson of Ohio, Mrs. Mary B. Ingham of Cleveland, Mrs. S. S. Fessenden of Massachusetts, and Mrs. Willard. The feature of the celebration was the presentation to Miss Cornelia Dow, for her father, the famous General Neal Dow, who is unable to be at the convention, of a handsomely engraved testimonial from the White Ribbon people of England and America.

Mrs. Helen L. Bullock of Elmira, N.
 Y., an organizer, reported that in Maine the W. C. T. U. is more feared than the Pinkerton detectives. During a nearly three months' stay in Maine, although visited police stations in different cities, and spent some time looking through the worst streets in Portland for drunkenness, she saw but one man intoxicated, and he was at the police station in Bangor. She asked the chief of police why even this one man should be in that condition, and he apologized by saying they had a political convention and baseball game in the city that day.

Miss E. W. Greenwood of Brooklyn told of the distribution of evangelistic literature, of arrangements for simultaneous prayer meetings in different localities. She recommended a return to the system of holding an hour of prayer from 11 to 12 o'clock in the morning at national conventions. Her report was adopted.

Miss Minnie English of Illinois made a very favorable report concerning work among the miners. Mrs. Mary F. Lovell of Massachusetts reported for the department of mercy, and spoke against the use of birds for the adornment of hats; against killing of seals for use of cloaks and urged her hearers to look into what she termed the horrors of the slaughter house. She offered a resolution which was unanimously adopted, urging the agitation of a sentiment among the young people of the country against the practice of vivisection, which she denounced as cruel and unnecessary for the promotion of science.

Rev. Mary Wood Allen responded for the purity department. She complained of a lack of funds to carry out the work of the department, but otherwise offered an encouraging report.

Mrs. C. M. Woodward reported for work among railroad men, bearing the interruption caused by the big strike, the work had been very encouraging.

A large number of detailed reports were offered which all indicated great enthusiasm in the work.

Word has been received here that Mrs. Annie Hicks of London, the leading woman in Great Britain in the labor movement, sailed on Nov. 17 in the steamship Paris of the American line with Lady Henry Somerset and is a fraternal delegate to the great labor convention in Denver next December.

Harrison in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 20.—Ex-President Harrison is here with Chairman J. M.
 Quayley and the representatives and trustees of the preferred coupon stock of the Toledo, St. Louis and Kansas City railroad. The road is in the hands of a receiver under a bill filed by the first mortgage bondholders in the United States circuit court in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, to bring about a foreclosure and sale. Hon. John H. Doyle, ex-judge of the supreme court of Ohio, is associated with General Harrison for the petitioners in the case, and together they presented the petition before Judge Ricks today.

Cam. ran Not a Candidate.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Senator Cameron has returned to the city from New York. A reporter called his attention to the dispatch from South Dakota connecting his name as a presidential candidate in the event of the birth of a new party favorable to silver. His only reply was that he had already expressed his opinion of the matter, referring to the denial he gave out for publication some time since. He declined to read the dispatch, and declared emphatically that he had nothing to say on the subject.

A Vessel Overdue.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Nov. 20.—No news has yet been received here of the Allan Line steamer Corean, Captain Main, and the friends of those on board are becoming very anxious. The Corean sailed from Glasgow on Nov. 8 and from Liverpool on the 6th, and is now six days overdue. There are on board about 100 persons, the officers and crew numbering 70.

Savored Strongly of Blackmail.

DENVER, Nov. 20.—Constable Frank and James Hart appeared before the district attorney here and made a complaint charging a business man with being responsible for the death of Kiku Oyama. The district attorney refused to have a warrant issued, regarding the charge as improbable and savoring strongly of blackmail.

KOLB WILL REBEL.

He Threatens an Insurrection
In Alabama.

DETERMINED TO BE GOVERNOR.

Manifesto Issued Calling His Followers to Assemble in Montgomery Dec. 1.—Proposes to Be Sworn In—Declares He Has Been Twice Elected.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 20.—Reuben F. Kolb, the defeated candidate of the Populist party for governor of Alabama, publishes a lengthy address to the people of Alabama in The People's Daily Tribune of this city, the state organ of the Kolbites and Populists, in which he declares his intention to be inaugurated governor of the state Dec. 1, and calls upon his followers

R. F. KOLB.

everywhere to gather at Montgomery on that day and aid him in taking his seat.

The address begins by saying that the paramount issue in the late state campaign was honest elections, and charges that frauds were committed in 1892. It says there was almost a universal demand against the repetition of these frauds. The address then says that after the election this year, Kolb issued an address stating he had been elected shortly after which his leaders held a conference. As a result of this conference meetings were called in every county for the purpose of ascertaining the wishes of the people with reference to the alleged frauds. A convention was also called at Montgomery for Nov.
 12, says the address, at which resolutions were adopted to the effect that Kolb was elected by the qualified electors; that the will of the people was set aside through the agency of election managers and county officials aided and abetted by the corrupt judiciary.

Kolb then says that last Saturday when the legislature convened in joint session to count the votes for state officers, Senator Goodwyn arose to file a protest signed by 44 Populist members of the legislature against counting the vote of certain counties where it is alleged frauds were committed, when Speaker Clarke of the house declared Go down out of order and ordered him to take his seat, calling upon the clerks to seat him. The address then concludes:

"The official count, as declared by the speaker, gives Oates a majority of 27-582. Election frauds committed in the counties named in the protest of Senator Goodwyn, of which we have positive and sworn evidence, would be more than sufficient to wipe out all the majorities claimed for Oates. The foregoing considered, and in view of the exciting conditions in Alabama, I have determined to discharge my full duty to the people of Alabama. I will not fail to repeat the pledges which I have made to the people who have given me their confidence and stood by me so heroically during the past four years. You, fellow citizens have twice elected me governor of this state, and this time, by the grace of God and the help of the good people of Alabama, I will be governor."

"Dec. 1 is the day fixed by law for the inauguration of the governor. On that day I shall be in Montgomery for the purpose of taking the oath of office as governor. And I hereby call upon good people in every part of the state to aid me in all proper and peaceable methods to uphold the law and set aside the power of traitors and usurpers in Alabama. I appeal to my friends and supporters from all parts of the state to be in Montgomery on the first day of December, 1894, and there and then to give me their support in a lawful and peaceable manner to vindicate their liberties; I counsel against any unlawful demonstration, but ask the presence and co-operation of free men in a necessary effort to enforce the law and carry out this project."

The arrest of Kolb for treason is not improbable, and if his followers undertake to seat him, which, judging from the sentiments expressed in their meetings in Montgomery last week they will undoubtedly do, it is believed there will be seriously trouble.

Diamond Cutters Coming Here.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—A report from the commissioner of immigration at New York states that 32 diamond cutters had arrived there from Amsterdam. After examination they were permitted to land. The statement is also made that of the 10,000 diamond cutters in Holland, fully 5,000 are out of employment, and that many of them are coming to the United States, the inference being that the diamond cutting industry is largely being transferred from Amsterdam to New York and Chicago.

A Deceased Marriage.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Nov. 20.—A romantic deceased marriage has occurred at Riverton, a small town near here.
 Colonel George B. Richardson, a rich bachelor, finding that he was about to die, and desiring that his housekeeper, Miss Marion E. McNeely, a maiden of 54 years, be left all his property, sent to the city and secured a license and the couple were married by Justice Knott at the sick man's bedside.

Caused by a Careless Smoker.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 20.—A disastrous fire has occurred at Middtown, this county. The hotel of John Harvey, James Joyce and William Sheridan, the clothing store of Nathan Shipman and five dwelling houses were laid in ashes. The loss is $20,000. The fire originated from a lighted cigar stump which a careless smoker tossed into a box filled with shavings.

Escorted a Boy.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Captain Edward North, commander of the whaler Jeannette, which recently came into port, has been arrested by the federal authorities here on a warrant charging him with having deserted Joseph White, a 19-year-old boy who belonged to the Jeannette's crew, on Hiram Island.

TRUE BILLS FOUND.

Insurance—Widow Holmes and Pals Included as Third-Party.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 20.—The grand jury has found a true bill against Herman Mudgett, alias H. H. Holmes, now a prisoner in Boston, J. B. Howe, the St. Louis lawyer who collected the insurance money on B. F. Pitzel's policy for the latter's widow, and the widow herself. The indictment reads for "conspiracy to cheat and defraud."

Coroner Ashbridge and President Fouse of the Fidelity Mutual company gave the necessary evidence for the finding of the indictment. Alexander McKnight, vice president of the Fidelity Mutual company made the following statement to your correspondent:
 "While the suspicion has grown until we are nearly positive that Benjamin F.
 Pitzel was murdered, the only charge made before the grand jury was that of conspiracy to cheat and defraud."

"I am positive that the body found on Sept. 4 at No. 1316 Callowhill street, on which an inquest was held the next day as that of B. F. Pitzel, is none other than that of B. F. Pitzel," said Coroner Ashbridge. "I am not at liberty at present to disclose my reasons for this assertion, but if I were and pointed them out you would be convinced."

It is stated that Mrs. Pitzel has been arrested in Burlington, Vt., and has made a confession.

A special from St. Louis says that Howe has been arrested in that city, but says he is not guilty.

A TERRIBLE EXPLOSION.

Two Men Blown to Pieces in a West Virginia Mining Camp.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 20.—A terrible explosion has occurred in Mc-Dowell county on the Norfolk and Western road, 50 miles south of this city, the Keystone coal and coke company's mining camp.

Several colored men were attempting to open a keg of miners' powder when it exploded. Elmer Knight and Sam Dunn were blown to atoms; Charles Seals and Andrew Magee were horribly injured.

Goulds Must Pay the Taxes.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Justice Lawrence of the supreme court has denied the application of the children of Jay Gould as the executors of their father's estate to cancel the taxes on personal estates for 1894 on the ground of non-residence, but the judge says he will grant their counsel permission to move for the purchaser of the tax commissioners for contempt for failing to take any notice of the first writ of certiorari which was issued to review the assessments. George J. Gould claimed that he lived in Lakewood, N. J., and the other children claimed a residence at Tarrytown, N. Y.

Shot by an Old Sweetheart.

WADSWORTH, Minn., Nov. 20.—The Proctor brothers, who reside near this city, went to church, leaving their aged mother at home. On their return they found her unconscious and covered with blood, having been shot. A stranger named Ferdinand was arrested and lodged in jail. Her sons recognized him as a former sweetheart of their mother in Germany but had not seen him since they left the old country.
 From his actions he is thought to be insane.

She Wants Two Millions.

DENVER, Nov. 20.—Power of attorney given by Lillian B. Daniels to Edward H. Murphy of New York has been filed with the county clerk. In this power of attorney Mrs. Daniels claims that she is entitled to $2,000,000 from the estate of W. B. Daniels, her late husband. She also files an assignment to Mr. Murphy in which it is set forth that no compromise shall be made without her consent for less than $450,000.

A Blizzard in New York.

SARASOTA LAKE, N. Y., Nov. 20.—A small sized blizzard prevails throughout northern New York. The mercury here registers 10 below zero, while the wind is blowing a gale, filling the air with light snow that has recently fallen.

Cleveland's Findings Overturned.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The findings of Grover Cleveland in a suit brought by James Saxton in 1888 against the Manhattan Elevated railroad have been overturned by a decision of the supreme court.

Sherman Can't Attend.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Senator John Sherman said today he would not be able to attend the Home Market club banquet in Boston on the 23d instant.

GOT THE JURY.

McGregor five or six years. She had never visited Lizzie, but Lizzie frequently came to see her. On cross-examination by Smith, Mrs. Moore said that Lizzie was in Pittsburg when married the first time, but she did not know how long they had lived together nor how long she lived with the second husband after they were divorced. Lizzie never told her business to Mrs. Moore, and she did not know much about her life in Pittsburg.

Thomas Neir knew the dead woman, and saw her in East Liverpool in June, 1892. It was in the evening, and together they went to Wellsville on a street car. They left Liverpool when the saloons were closing, but he could not tell how long the trip required. They were at Henry Martin's in Wellsville for 10 minutes, and then went to Cheattle's, but could not remember whether they had knocked on the door. Mrs. Cheattle came to the door. When Prosecutor Spenser asked him if anything had happened to Lizzie's clothing while they were there, he could not remember, but finally recalled that she was dressed in black, and took off her hat. Lizzie went to McGregor's house, and knocked on the door or shutter, and someone opened it, but he did not know who it was. He had been commissioned to stand there, and thought he remained an hour, but finally grew weary and went home. He positively did not know who was in McGregor's house. When Attorney Smith cross-examined him he said he met Lizzie at Mrs. Coulson's saloon in Liverpool where they spent an hour in the sitting room which contained no bed or lounge. He gave Lizzie two glasses of brandy there, and he saw her drink nothing else. When they got to Wellsville, Lizzie wanted to go to Joe Poe's but changed her mind. He could not say that she was perfectly sober, nor could he remember who they talked with at the Morrison house. At Cheattle's he knew the woman brought whiskey to the door, but could not tell whether it was in a bottle or in a jug. He drank some of it. At this point the prosecution desired the presence of Mrs. Cheattle, and as she had not arrived from Wellsville, court was adjourned until 1 o'clock.

STARTLING STORIES

Told by Witnesses This Afternoon.

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS REVIEW.
NEW LISBON, Nov. 20.—Mrs. Bertha Porter was the first witness called after dinner, and she added some valuable testimony to what is already known.

She knew McGregor and Lizzie, and at one time was at Martin's when he was living with Alma Walters. There she saw McGregor lay his hand on a revolver, and say that he would kill her (Mrs. Ewing) the first time he saw her. They were all drunk or had been drinking, and she could not remember a great deal about what happened, but she knew that what McGregor said had made a lasting impression on her, and she could not forget it.

Henry Lyon, of Wellsville, testified that he knew the interested parties, and saw McGregor, Lizzie, Martin and Alma Walters at the rear of McGregor's house. Jesse had Lizzie down on the ground, and the witness saw him kick her, and knew they had been fighting. Upon cross-examination, he said that Alma Walters told McGregor not to kill Lizzie, but the woman begged him to finish the work. He was recalled, and when Taylor cross-examined, said that while he had worked for Sheriff Lodge at one time, he had never talked with him about the case.

Court adjourned because of the absence of some important witnesses, and will convene tomorrow morning.

THE NEW WORLD METROPOLIS.

Chicago Reaching For New York's Crown as Queen of the Continent.

This significant editorial appears in that very much alive New York paper, The World:

"Consolidation must take place or soon the pushing western city will appear upon the map as the queen of the continent. The figures are conclusive. In 1900, unless consolidation takes place, it will surely be smaller, and Chicago will utter a tremendous roar, which will echo and re-echo around the world, for New York will have lost the leading place, with all the power, prestige, importance and substantial benefits such a place brings. And Chicago will have it and make the most of it. The advantages of being the first city in population cannot be overestimated. It is an advertisement all over the world. It attracts capital and a thousand other benefits."

There is no help for New York. It must submit to the inevitable. Chicago is catching up at a pace that cannot be lessened. Chicago is bound by all laws of progress to pass New York within the near future and to take and keep the position of first city of the continent, foremost of the cities of the new world.

The usual statistical estimate of manhood voters is one to five of the entire population. Deducting the registration by women, which is comparatively insignificant, the population of the city of Chicago must be today more than 1,500,000, and remembering the rate per cent of increase in past decades, taking the average and accepting the mathematical demonstration, it will scarcely require the opening of a new century to find Chicago at the head of American cities.

It is true, as the New York newspaper says, "the advantage of being the first city in population cannot be overestimated. It is an advertisement all over the world. It attracts capital and a thousand other benefits."

The men who founded New York on its narrow strip of land were not far-sighted. They thought only of their immediate profits from trade. The men who founded Chicago were far-sighted. They thought of the future of their city, the destiny of their country. The former were foreigners who had no idea of becoming Americans. The latter were Americans. New York has continued to be a foreign city. Chicago has always been an American city.

Consolidation with Brooklyn will not avail New York now. Lack of Americanism is its constitutional defect. It is past repairing now, so far as predominance is concerned.—Chicago Herald.

AN UNCANNY PHOTOGRAPH.

A Newly Wedded Couple's Picture Marred by a Ghostly Intruder.

The people of Elma, a bustling, lively town in the upper part of Chehalis county, are mystified over a photograph. Last Tuesday afternoon Major Rogers and wife entered the gallery of H. B. Merriweather of that city and had their pictures taken. On removing the plate the artist noticed that the picture was not perfect, and throwing the plate into the bath took another, which was a very good likeness of the old major and his bride. They have been married less than three months and are each on the shady side of 50.

Mrs. Rogers called Wednesday for a proof and expressed a desire to see the first plate. On holding the plate up to the light the photographer saw three figures, one a man appearing between the major and Mrs. Rogers.

Handing it to the lady, she glanced at it and went into hysterics, exclaiming, "It is ——" (her first husband). She begged the artist to say nothing about it, as it would scare the major to death, but in some way the matter became known and soon spread over the town, nearly every one calling at the office to see the negative. Mr. Merriweather claims the plate was taken from a new box and had not been exposed.

Mrs. Rogers, it is said, is a medium of note. She is from the east and has lived in Elma about two months. The figure is distinct, both in form and feature, and stands out apparently ahead of the major and Mrs. Rogers.—Aberdeen (Wash.) Cor. Portland Oregonian.

THE MARRIAGE MARKET.

Prices Are Fair For Gilt Edge Stock, but Job Lots Are Cheap.

It is too early in the season to predict what the prospect for business in the matrimonial market will be. Dealers are carrying over large stocks from last year, and the overproduction of debutantes and the importation of foreign fascinations may have a depressing effect upon the market. Dealers are anxious to realize, but the market continues firm, with an upward tendency.

Prim, first class, country bred winners are at a premium. Last season's society whirlers are below par. There is a better feeling in rosebuds, and prices to foreign noblemen are phenomenally low. Mothers-in-law, after having touched bottom figures, A1, are reviving and are quoted at 88½, middling 78, good ordinary 61. It is confidently predicted that before the fiscal year ends mothers-in-law will go to 114 unless unforeseen complications arise calculated to bear the market. Fathers-in-law are extremely dull. Small brothers find no market, and maiden aunts are not listed. Gilt edged orphans are scarce and but few offering. The stock on hand Oct. 1, 1894, of good matches among the men is too small to note in a sworn to statement of effects and liabilities.—Washington Post.

Driven to Suicide by Women.

The fact is carefully suppressed by the English press that Viscount Drumlanrig, the eldest son of the Marquis of Queensberry, whose death was announced last week, committed suicide. The young man was recently engaged, and the announcement caused two other women with whom he had relations to threaten him. The young man blew his brains out.—Vogue.

IS HIS HOME WHERE HIS HEAD LIES?

An Interesting Question as to the Residence of a Dweller on a Boundary.

A surveyor's line cuts the dwelling house of George F. Perry of Maplewood square in two. But the house still stands for all that, and the nightly rest of its occupants is in nowise disturbed because of the division. The line is the boundary between the town of Melrose and the city of Malden, and all of a sudden the two municipalities have set up vigorous and conflicting claims for the possession of Mr. Perry's freehold and incidentally the taxes levied thereon.

For some years past the owner of the house has been paying his taxes to Malden. Now the Melrose assessors have looked over the ground and determined that the property comes within their jurisdiction. In future they will send a bill to Mr. Perry, and, furthermore, they have presented a bill to the city of Malden for the refunding of all the money, to the amount of about $60, that he has paid into the Malden treasury. It is nip and tuck between the two places, and Mr. Perry looks serenely on. To be sure, he has a tax bill from both Melrose and Malden in either pocket, but it is tolerably certain that he will not be required to pay them both.

There is one comforting assurance to Mr. Perry, whose sympathies all go out to Malden and to whom Melrose is an alien land. His Malden citizenship is unimpaired, for the boundary line almost exactly bisects the bed in which he sleeps at night, and that it is which determines the place where he lives. The fortunate thing about it is that his head—his thinking piece—and the pillow lie peacefully on the Malden side.

Melrose surveyors, with fell intent, have planted their theodolites at the boundary stone in front of the Perry mansion on Swain's Pond avenue and squinted with all their might across the fence and have figured and figured in the attempt to gerrymander Mr. Perry's bed into Melrose territory. They have metaphorically cut through his knees, his waist and his neck, but his head remains triumphantly in Malden, and the assailants, crestfallen, have limbered up their machines and hied them back to Melrose to concoct fresh schemes.—Boston Journal.

The Just Fear of God.

If we work upon marble, it will perish; if we work upon brass, time will efface it; if we rear temples, they will crumble into dust, but if we work upon immortal minds, if we imbue them with principles, with the just fear of God and love of our fellow men, we engrave on those tablets something which will brighten to all eternity.—Daniel Webster.

The teachers of cooking in the Boston public schools are paid $45 for their first year's work, with an annual increase of $48 until the maximum of $744 is reached. The director of the cooking schools is paid $1,000.
